Community Center movies may have to be discontinued

Unless children and their parents demonstrate they still want the weekly matinees at the Community Center on Saturdays, the CVYO will be forced to discontinue them, according to Kit Parker, who has been in charge of the films for the past three years.

Kit, a Carmel High student who has devoted limitless hours to the choosing, procuring and running of the children's movies, feels that it would be a terrible loss to the young people in the area.

So, a last appeal is being made. The weekly shows are only 35¢ with two screenings, one at 1 p.m. and the other at 3 p.m. on Saturdays.

Each showing is adult supervised and a spacious snack bar provides food during the film. In addition, the proceeds (when there are any) go to benefit the Carmel Valley Youth Organization. These youngsters have also given limitlessly of their time to run the snack bar, clean up the center, and help supervise the movies. It was hoped that it would turn into one of their major means of fund raising, when the Community Center Board turned the operation over to the CVYO.

Parents are asked to take a look at the schedule of superior motion pictures that have been planned for the future months. If attendance does not improve, the movies will unfortunately be discontinued.

MRS. FRANK BRESK and children were among the many Valleyites who dropped in for the open house at the library on Friday and Saturday to view the new expanded quarters. The youngsters enjoy the new young people's reading facilities grouped around the fireplace

TOM MCKIERNON waved farewell to school buses as he retired from driving last Friday. Tom, who became a Tularcitos bus driver in April, 1960, has been driving the Cachagua run. All of "his" kids in elementary grades gathered to say a collective goodbye before he made his final trip. What is he going to do with all his spare time? . . . build boats!

Gardeners to meet March 3

The board of directors and committee chairmen of the Carmel Valley Garden Association met Thursday evening at the home of the president, L.T. Johnson.

A proposed change in the format of the 1967 Flower and Garden Show was discussed and will be presented to the membership at the Mar. 3 meeting.

All interested gardeners are urged to be in the Tularcitos multipurpose room at 8 p.m. to take part in the discussion. Because of the importance of the business meeting, there will not be a guest speaker.

CONSTRUCTION IS well under way at the new Crocker-Citizens Bank building at Carmel Valley Shopping Center. The bank is scheduled to open in mid-April.

Beauty and coffee shops latest lessees at CV Center

The empty spaces at the Carmel Valley Shopping Center are rapidly being filled with a variety of shops and services. Developer George Clemens has announced that a coffee shop has been leased and a beauty salon has also taken space in the new building complex.

The Valley branch of Crocker-Citizens Bank will open at the shopping center about mid-April, according to Mrs. Ramona Weer, manager, who is busy selecting her staff. Mrs. Weer, currently assistant manager of the bank's Carmel office, is the first woman to be named manager of a Crocker-Citizens bank. The Valley branch will have complete banking facilities including safety deposit box service and a drive-in window, in addition to eight tellers inside the building.

Another new resident of the shopping center is the Mid Valley Barber Shop, operated by Fred S. Pool, who had been located in Carmel.

A.I.D. decorator Dorothy Constans and Thomas Moore have combined their talents to bring a complete decorating service to the Valley.

The Mid Valley Chevron station owned by Tom Steiny recently had its grand opening, and last month, Dr. Keith Howell held an open house to introduce Valley residents to his new veterinary hospital, located next to the Golden Fleece Yarn Shop.

Happy birthday CVYO

We would like to salute the Carmel Valley Youth Organization on its first birthday. It was just a year ago that the CVYO became a chartered, non-profit organization with high aims and what appeared to many of us as an impossible task to perform.

We are proud of them... not only have the young people established themselves with an efficient operation, running in the black, but they have provided a wide variety of activities and projects for the members. Service to the community has been combined with fund raising efforts to provide the youth of Carmel Valley with things to do and a place and time to do them.

Many adult organizations could take a lesson in stick-to-it-iveness from the youngsters, who have accomplished a great deal on a small budget... Sure, they have made some mistakes, but they have not let it deter them and they have learned from their errors.

Happy Birthday, and may they have many more!

Letters to the Editor

Parents attention!

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PARENTS OF CARMEL VALLEY

I should hope by now that you have become aware of Carmel Valley Youth Organization and the tremendous service that it performs here in the Valley. Recently I was informed that juvenile crime is on the rise in every community on the Monterey Peninsula EXCEPT Carmel Valley. Here in the Valley the juvenile crime rate last year was half of what it was two years ago.

CVYO, which will celebrate its first birthday this Friday night, cannot logically take all the credit for this drop, but I believe that it has been a major factor.

We at CVYO are confronted constantly with the paradox of performing services for the community and at the same time making enough money to perform these much needed activities. On the precariously slim budget with which we operate we can not lose money and remain organized for long.

As you know, for the last few years Saturday afternoon movies have been shown at the Community Center. CVYO puts these movies on as a service to the community.

Herein lies the paradox. We are being forced to bear a monetary loss, weekly, because of lack of attendance. To minimize this drain I have received authorization, from the Board of Directors of CVYO, to increase the admission charge from the present 35¢ to a price of 50¢. This will become effective on the second Saturday of March.

If this fails, we will have no choice but to discontinue the movies as a weekly affair.

Ladies and gentlemen, all of these movies are approved by both "Parent's Magazine" and The Legion of Decency. There is adult supervision and a very good snack bar.

If nothing else, we offer an inexpensive child-sitting service for a few hours on a Saturday afternoon.

Parents of the Valley, I have every hope that we won't have to carry out these changes, but the facts are out in rather plain red and black.

I beseech you, if you want these movies to continue, please send your youngsters. We want to perform this service, but we need your support.

Yours in service,
Jeff Wright
Director CVYO

SCHOOL NEWS

Principal Orville Rogers continues his report on activities at Carmel Middle School. This week he discusses student supervision, music and teacher improvement.

PARENTS HELP

One of the continuing problems at Middle School is that of supervision. This plant with its modules and rectangular pattern, plus its size, make it very difficult to supervise. We are very fortunate to have two capable parent noon supervisors, Mrs. Charles R. Carter and Mrs. Jean McDonald, but in addition to this we have sixteen teachers on supervision at various times throughout the day. It is also necessary to assign thirteen more teachers to study hall duty.

Thus, twenty-nine of our thirty-six classroom teachers cannot devote all of their school time to preparing lessons and teaching kids. A big help, of course, would be teacher aides (certificated and non-certificated) to assume these non-teaching burdens.

As a stop-gap we must rely upon parent volunteers (bless 'em) and there are twelve of those now helping us in one capacity or other. We deeply appreciate their service to the cause.

All of this, of course, points to a crying need for more personnel which means more money!

MUSIC FESTIVALS

The season for spring music festivals is approaching and we would like to remind parents of students who are in chorus and advanced band that these people are required to attend as part of a passing grade in these classes. These festivals are important in allowing our students to compare their efforts with those of other students of their age in the Central Coast Counties.

The Junior High Vocal Festival will be held at MPC on Saturday, March 4, under the chairmanship of our own Bill Purdy. The Instrumental Festival will be under the chairmanship of J.W. Larson on our own campus at the Middle School on Saturday, March 11.

This is the first time that both festivals have been held in this area and parents are urged to take advantage of this opportunity to attend either or both of them.

T.I.P.

Middle School teachers are participating in a teacher improvement program (T.I.P.) sponsored by Project EDINN. The program involves use of the video-tape which allows a teacher to see himself as others see him.

Seven of our teachers volunteered to be taped in a classroom lesson which was followed by a critique from their cohorts after school. The Critique was led by T.I.P. "veterans" Marv Patterson and Nancy Loyd, who have spent two summers in the program started by our District in the summer of 1965.

In Short

TODAY'S WORLD seems devoid of sentiment and never was this more apparent than at the Community Chapel Guild Valentine Tea where members and guests searched vainly through pastel-colored candy hearts for the printed messages of yesteryear, "Be Mine," "I'm Yours," "Turtle Dove," etc., only to find today's endearing terms read "Cool Man," "Real Camp," "Blast Off," "Cool It," "Let's Twist," and "Smash-mouth." Whatever happened to cupids, lace hearts, flowers and bow knots?

TWO FIRST DELIVERIES were celebrated Feb. 10 at the Carmel Rancho Shopping Center. On this auspicious day United California Bank manager J. Scott Bambach got word that his wife, Lynn, had given birth to their first child. Whereupon Olive and Norm Skadon, owners of the new Carmel Rancho Florist Shop made their first delivery of a floral arrangement to commemorate the arrival of young Robert Whitney Bambach. Their shop is slated to open March 1.

THREE PAIRS OF GLASSES were donated to needy families recently by the Carmel Valley Lions Club. The club's sight conservation chairman, Bob Ward, says the credit is due to the tremendous support Valleyites gave during White Cane Days last September. He says that the local Lions have also sent aid to Guide Dogs for the Blind of San Rafael as well as the Eye Foundation at Presbyterian Hospital in San Francisco, because of this heartwarming response to their annual project.

WE'VE BEEN TOLD that there is an Egyptian goose nesting on ten eggs on the left of the 16h fairway at the Carmel Valley Golf and Country Club... Golfers are urged not to hit any balls into the rough on that hole for the next 11 days.

ONE GREAT BLUE HERON, standing alone on the far shore of Carmel River, was spotted by Audubon members during a recent bird-spotting session at the river's mouth. Other water birds seen through the telescope set up by club president Capt. E.B. Hurlburt, were buffleheads, sanders, mallards, cinnamon teal, and glaucous and western gulls and ducks wheeling overhead.

A MICHIGAN FRIEND writes that he is mystified by The Outlook's cryptic address, "Bin CC," and asks if it stands for "Citizens' Complaints" or "Confiscated Commies."

CUSD presents Questions and Answers on override tax

(This is the third of a series of four features on the March 7 school override tax.)

QUESTION 16: Is it true that the taxpayers of Carmel have one of the lowest tax rates of any unified school district in the State of California?

ANSWER: Yes, of the 114 unified districts in the State, 102 districts have a higher tax rate than the Carmel Unified School District.

QUESTION 17: Is it possible that additional State and Federal aid will be directed to the schools of California?

ANSWER: It is extremely unlikely. There hasn't been any additional basic aid for ten years, and then it was only a $5 per child increase. There have been frequent increases for districts falling into the equalization or supplemental aid categories. It is evident that there is no possibility of additional aid except to the poorer districts.

QUESTION 18: Why weren't funds derived from the sale of Sunset School used for the operation of the District in 1966-67 since the District needed funds and the override tax election failed?

ANSWER: Funds obtained from the sale of a school building must be deposited in the Building Fund and, by law, may only be used for capital outlay items such as new buildings, site development and furnishings for new buildings.

QUESTION 19: Would unification with Monterey or Pacific Grove reduce the overall cost of operation for all districts involved?

ANSWER: There is no evidence that large unified districts cost less to maintain than smaller districts. In fact, the greatest proponents of unification have ceased to use this argument. Unification for the Carmel area would be particularly costly to Carmel taxpayers since the districts with the high assessed valuation must share their wealth with the poorer district. As a result either a higher tax rate or poorer educational program would certainly become a fact for the people living in the present Carmel Unified School District.

QUESTION 20: Was the .37 override tax amount determined by compromise or exactly how was it determined?

ANSWER: The .37 override amount was determined by taking the cost of all the instructional program personnel, equipment, maintenance and transportation needs of the entire district over a five-year projected period and then deducting all the anticipated additional revenue over the same five-year period. All increases in income were based on averages determined from what occurred during the past five-year period.

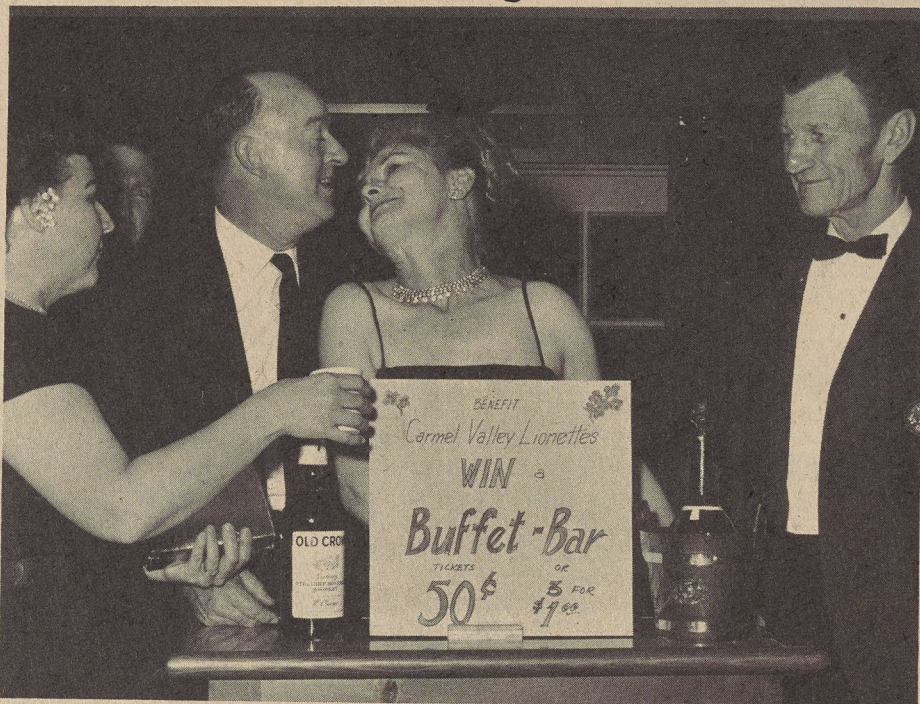

QUESTION 21: Will the .50 override tax authorized in 1958 be continued?

ANSWER: Yes, the .50 override authorized in 1958 that expires on June 30, 1968 will be extended to expire on the same date as the .37 proposed override tax.

QUESTION 22: How does the tax rate including all override taxes compare between Carmel Unified and the other two unified school districts in Monterey County?

ANSWER: Carmel Unified	$2.44
Pacific Grove Unified	$3.59
Monterey Peninsula Unified	$3.27

Wine and roses go to their heads at Lions' annual celebration

At the galleries

Robust scenes from the Polish childhood of Carmel Artist Zyta Laky rollick along the walls of the Laky galleries this week and until March 3.

Horses dash through fields of snow pulling sleighs full of revelers and peasants dance in twirling skirts. All this riotous color and movement is sharply in contrast to calm scenes of the valley in springtime, cattle being driven home at sunset and a group of flower paintings that glimmer with sunlight.

This artist can paint hydrangeas (in our opinion a stiff and pompous plant) and make them seem ethereal, arranged with grace and bathed in pearly light.

Mrs. Laky left Poland at the age of 18 to study at the Royal Academy of Art in Budapest and had her first exhibit at 19 at the Bud Fine Arts Association. She has since exhibited in innumerable shows here and abroad. —LSN

Natural gas predicted: Catherine Seideneck, well known Carmel Valley artist, passes Upper Carmel Valley could have natural gas service by next winter if all goes on schedule. This was the word from Thomas E. Riddle, Monterey PG&E district manager, to Carmel Valley Kiwanis Club Tuesday noon at Los Laureles Lodge.

Next step is approval of PG&E's application, expected momentarily, by the California Public Utilities Commission.

Then PG&E will seek to sign-up 90% of the 435 potential customers in the main areas above the Carmel Valley Shopping Center at Mid-Valley where the natural gas main now ends.

PUC requires an advance sign-up for three years plus a $50 deposit from each customer, which is refundable when appliances are connected.

Although starting rates may be about 25% higher than average for the Peninsula, they would be reviewed annually by the PUC and reduced as more homes are built.

The main line will go up Carmel Valley Road, cover the Village area, continue up Esquiline Road into Robles del Rio. Side areas will be added as soon as possible according to desires of residents, he said.

Savings estimated over bottled gas will average at least 30%, Riddle commented, which is the reason PG&E expects a successful sign-up.

Although the past year has seen slower growth, the Valley has been growing at an average of 10% a year, the PG&E official pointed out. He added that his company predicts it will be serving about 1,000 customers in five years in the Upper Valley.

PG&E will go ahead with its plans in spite of apparent delay in development of the proposed Rancho Fiesta Retirement home, he added.

Accompanying Riddle to the meeting were Claud Hicks who lives in Carmel Valley, Carmel and Pacific Grove PG&E manager, and Jack Smith, district gas superintendent.

Houses now served entirely by electricity would be bypassed, he said, although they might want to hook in water heaters, the appliance which offers the most saving.

Catherine Comstock Seideneck, well known artist and resident of Carmel Valley succumbed last week after an extensive period of ill health. She and her husband, George, also a respected artist and photographer lived in a warm, gracious and beautifully artistic home on Miramonte Road.

Mrs. Seideneck was born in Evanston, Ill., and started her fine arts career early in her life, studying with artists and sculptors in the Chicago area and attending the Art Institute in that city. Her family moved to California early in the 1900's and she continued study at the California School of Arts and Crafts.

She met her husband, George, in Carmel, and they were married in 1920. For a number of years they traveled extensively in Europe, with both involved in painting and art study. Both she and her husband have been members of the Carmel Art Association for a number of years.

Many Valleyites had an opportunity to visit the home which the Seidenecks designed and built on Miramonte Road during the AFA Studio House tour two years ago, when Carmel Valley artists were featured.

Mrs. Seideneck was the sister of the late Hugh and Hurd Comstock and Mrs. Cornelia Comstock Matthews of Carmel. In addition to her husband, George, she is survived by three brothers, all living in California.

ESPALIER

As the art of Bonsai was developed and perfected in Japan, so the espalier phase of horticulture was developed in France and Europe. "Espalier" means the frame or the trellis used for training plants and the term is also used for the trained plant. It is the art of training a plant to grow in a vertical plane. Some plants need the least amount of training, such as the naturally espaliered plant, Grewia caffra, "Lavender starflower."

This plant came to us from Natal, So. Africa, and is hardy in our area. It reaches a height of 10' and an 8' spread. It blooms profusely from spring until fall. Flowers are lavender blue with yellow centers. The lateral branches are almost horizontal. All that they need is to be tied to a wall or trellis.

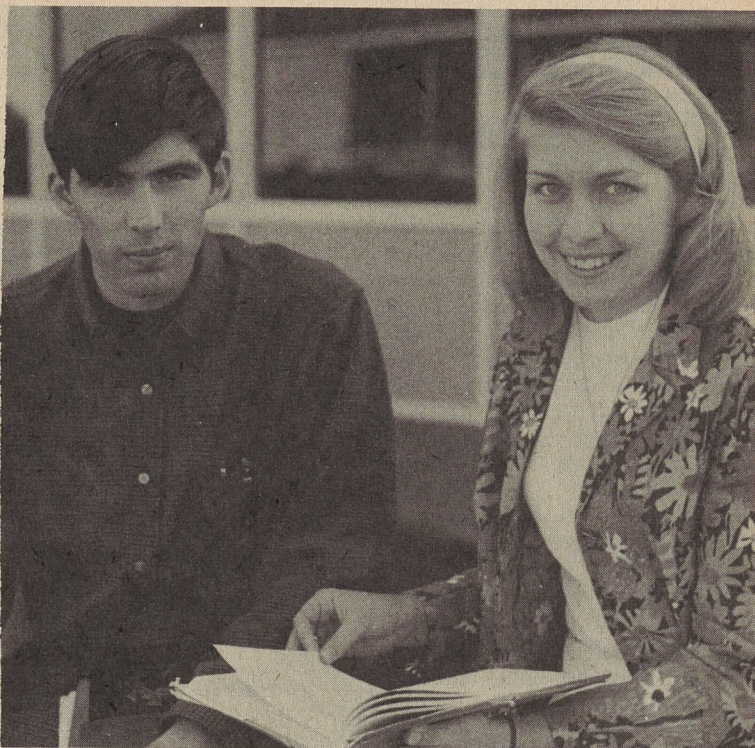

The list of plants which can be espaliered is very long, including: apple, pear, cherry, citrus trees, figs, camellias, magnolia, olive, pyracantha, bottlebrush, and many others. All the plants mentioned need a sunny exposure except the camellia. Camellias can take early morning sun or filtered sun.

The training of a tree should start when it is young and pliable. You may like to train the branches in a horizontal way or in a fan pattern. Branches can be tied to a trellis or to wire, or even right on to the wall or fence. Pruning and pinching are necessary, otherwise the plant reverts to its natural habit. To have a bearing apple tree in an espaliered form is the most gratifying. It is nice to extend your hand and reach for a delicious apple on an espalier, n'est-ce pas?

ORIENTAL REDWOOD

Botanists sometimes become intoxicated with joy when they suddenly come face to face with a plant that they know only from fossils and which they believed extinct a long time ago. That's what happened when China's "dawn redwood" was discovered as a living tree in the province of Szechuan of Central China. In 1948, seeds were sent to the Arnold Arboretum in Mass. Now there are many trees in America and in many parts of the world. In its native land it grows to 100'. We have to wait yet to find out the max-

SEMI-FINALISTS against winners from nine other colleges are Sterling Phillips of Carmel (left) and Charlotte Cleis of Salinas, who have been named Bank of America "Man and Woman of the Year" at Monterey Peninsula College. They'll compete Feb. 28, and if they win, could go on to take the title of "California Junior College Man and Woman of the Year" later in the spring. The state title carries with it a $1,000 award.

Outlook on Carmel

Section of the Carmel Valley Outlook

Fred Farr begins new highway beautification job in Capitol

Washington, D.C. is the new home of Carmelite and ex-senator Fred Farr, who began his new job in the capitol a week ago. Fred was appointed to a newly created position in the Dept. of Transportation with the title of federal highway beautification coordinator.

Fred's new responsibilities will entail advising the federal highway administration on beautifying, and coordinating standards for highway beautification throughout the states.

During his career as lawyer and legislator Fred has long worked in the interest of scenic roadways. As senator from Monterey County he introduced a number of bills which subsequently became laws on conservation and beautification. He was responsible for establishing the first segment of the scenic highway system in California with Highway 1, south along the Big Sur Coast.

Just about a year ago he was on hand to launch plans to establish a scenic travel route from Monterey to the Oregon border.

In addition to working in President Johnson's natural beauty program, he has also served as a consultant on scenic roads under Secretary of the Interior, Stewart Udall.

Although Fred expects to come back to Carmel for visits, he has no definite plans at the present moment. He has taken an apartment in Washington, D.C. and has rented his Carmel home to his law partner and associate Larry Horan who has just returned to the Peninsula from Bogota, Columbia. Horan and his family had been in South America with the Peace Corps. Fred's own personal things are being packed and sent to him in the East, according to a spokesman in his Carmel office.

The well-liked senator has many friends in the area who will miss him. This was evidenced recently when more than 500 persons turned out for a non-partisan thank you to Fred for his 12 years of senatorial service.

L'Alliance Francaise committee members have chosen the judges for the mid-Lent "Mi-Careme" costume dinner-dance. Costumes for the gala affair will be judged on the basis of Most Attractive, Most Original, Most Amusing, Most Authentic and the Most Daring.

Judges for the ball, to be held at the Casa Munras on Mar. 2, will be Mrs. Theodore Bradley, Mrs. Beaumont Newhall, Ansel Adams, Capt. Ralph Arndt, and Dr. Sorin Issvoran.

Prizes will include dinners at Carmel and Monterey's most elegant restaurants as well as an array of imported champagne, wines and gourmet items.

Reservations for the costume ball may be made in Carmel by calling Mrs. Jerome Carlson, (624-3195), in Carmel Valley by calling Mrs. John Dowdakin (659-2356) or by calling Mrs. James Hathaway (372-1138) or Mrs. Russel Cadle (375-9242).

Attractive and original masks made by members of the organization will be on sale at the dance and there will be a tombola for door prizes.

Carmel Woman's Club gardeners to hear national garden club official

The Garden section of the Carmel Woman's Club will meet on Monday, Feb. 27, at 2 p.m. for a slide lecture on "New and Different Annuals," presented by James W. Wilson, the 2nd vice president of the Men's Garden Clubs of America, who is a graduate of University of Missouri, specializing in agriculture. By Mildred Hattan

Members of the family and close friends were invited to a dinner party Jan. 15 at the Officers' Club at the Presidio of Monterey where the February wedding plans of Miss Florence Zweta Nedeff and Mr. Donald Eugene Martin were announced. Prof. and Mrs. Mitko Nedeff of Via Contenta were host and hostess for their daughter's engagement party. The guests were Prof. and Mrs. Boris Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. George Popoff and daughter, Greta, Miss Marjorie Seiffert, Miss Elsa Brookman, and Miss Nicole Nedeff.

Dr. and Mrs. Dale Buche have kept their welcome mat polished to greet the many house guests who have arrived at their Los Agrinemsors home since the first of January. Heading the list in their guest book were Dr. and Mrs. Paul Covnat and son, of Carswell Air Force Base in Ft. Worth, Tex., followed by Dr. and Mrs. Harold Novotny and son, Douglas. Dr. Novotny is associated with Stanford University.

Guests from Detroit, Mich., Dr. and Mrs. Calvin Hughes and daughter, were visitors for the first weekend in February. Now enjoying the Valley sunshine far from the snows of their home in Boone, Iowa, are Dale's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Buche. The senior Buches plan to take short exploration trips from the Valley during their six-week stay and have already met neighbors and made friends through Mr. Buche's attendance at the Valley Kiwanis luncheons.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudi Bauz are busy readying their Los Laureles Lodge for the forthcoming tourist season. The Valleyites took time for a rare holiday for themselves recently when they enjoyed a four-day visit in Santa Barbara followed by five days in Phoenix. In Arizona they visited with former residents of Pacific Grove, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Clark, who now winter in the Arizona sunshine in their trailer house.

A "Koffee" on Sunday afternoon given by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bordonaro welcomed new residents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sturgills and gave them an opportunity to meet their neighbors on Aliso Rd. The Sturgills with sons, Vincent and Joey, have purchased the former Prescott home. Mr. Sturgills is associated with the Carmel Building Supply. Mrs. (Eloise) Sturgills is employed at the National Parachute Headquarters, whose sky diving office is on Cannery Row.

Welcoming the newcomers were Mr. and Mrs. James Kelley, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Feldman, Mrs. Mary Drobek, Mrs. Barbara Ascarate, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Todd, and Lt. Cmdr. and Mrs. Frank Edwards.

The playroom of the Mike Massaglia home on El Hemorro in Robles del Rio was converted into a mining camp for the birthday party last weekend honoring their son, David. Since David was seven years old, the name of the "diggin's" was, appropriately enough, "The Lucky Seven Mine." Candles in bottles and red glasses added atmosphere while the miners panned for gold, sifting sand with pie tins, while searching for pennies.

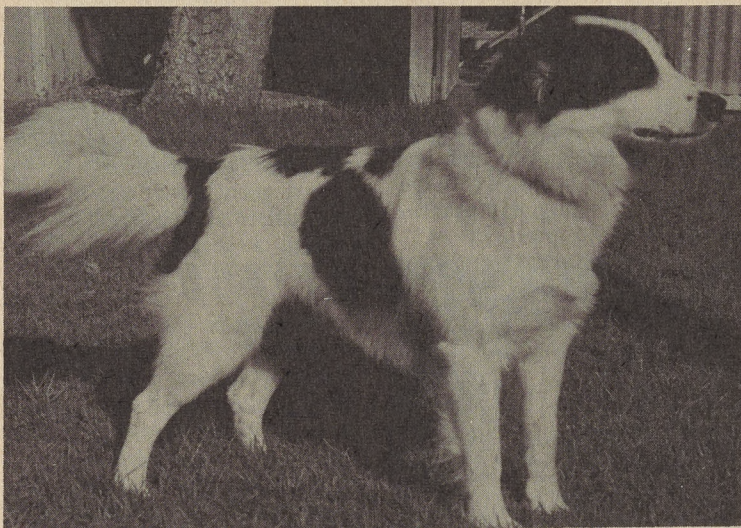

A tree climbing contest was also popular for David's guests who swarmed up three huge oak trees containing tree houses on the Massaglia property. Sharing David's day were his brothers, Tommy and Peter, Robbie James, Kent Swanson, Benje Speiser, and Rogue Hattan.

Jean and Don McKenzie and June and Ken Van Hagen combined business and pleasure last weekend with a trip to San Francisco. The Valley foursome attended the Gift Show on Monday and the Boat Show on Sunday.

The CV Lionettes still believe in sentimental dates such as the birthdays of the patients at the Carmel Convalescent Hospital, which they are privileged to help celebrate. This month the new project chairman, Mrs. Theo Mirani, was in charge of a party for the February birthdays of Maud Walsh, 83, Christina Clark, 95, and Lottie Mills, 87. Mrs. Henry Blatnik baked

Pet of the week

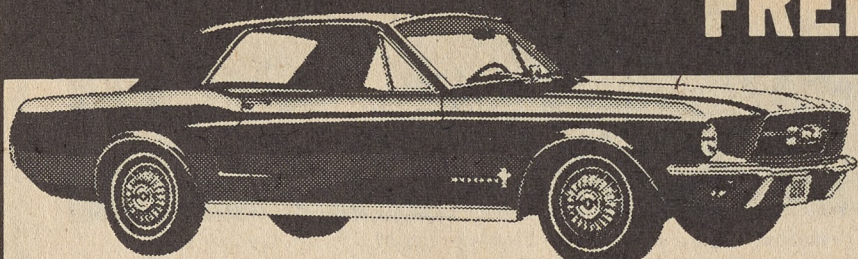

PRINCE is a sheltie collie-cocker combination of dog with a handsome white coat and black spots in the nicest places. He has good indoor manners, but there's nothing he likes better than an outdoor romp with children.

If you'd like to make his acquaintance and possibly take him home to play with, call Humane Officer Gwen May for an introduction at 375-3333. He's at the SPCA Animal Shelter, 2099 David Ave., Monterey, but he can't stay there forever.

College art show to open at MP Museum in Carmel

A tri-college art show, featuring works by the art faculties—both full-time and part-time—of Monterey Peninsula College, Hartnell College and Cabrillo College, will open Friday, Mar. 3, at the Monterey Peninsula

Museum of Art in Carmel.

First of its kind, the show, currently hanging at Hartnell College in Salinas, will remain in Carmel through March.

Featured are some 40 pieces—paintings, sculpture, drawings, ceramics, photography—with a maximum of three pieces from each instructor.

MPC is represented by Joseph Hysong, Robert Nelson, Alex Gonzales, Richard Bibler, Chester Smith and Joe Ataide. Hartnell exhibitors are Leon Amyx, Hal Bohn, Joseph Bragdon, Robert Butterbaugh and Andrea Spark, who also teaches evenings at MPC. Cabrillo exhibitors are James Conlin, David McGuire, Howard Ikemoto, Holt Murry and Donald Thompson.

A reception for the three exhibiting art faculties, the museum's membership and guests will open the show Mar. 3, 5 to 7 p.m. in the gallery, located on Lincoln St. near Ocean Ave. Gallery hours are 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and 2 to 5 p.m. Saturdays.

CV Youth group to have birth fete

Friday night, the Carmel Valley Youth Organization celebrates its first anniversary. A gala party is planned by members with music for dancing provided by "The Yellow Line Express" from Carmel.

Rumor has it that the adult CVYO Board, who will be guests, have surprises for the kids...and we've also heard that there are a few surprises in for the adult board.

At any rate, the celebration should be a great one. The CVYO baby, not only survived but took nourishment and has flowered into a full-blown organization! (See letter on page 3)

Greece to be featured in travel feature for Explorers Club series

"Magnificent Greece," a new feature length travel and adventure film, will be presented at 8:15 p.m. Friday, Mar. 3, at Sunset Center auditorium in Carmel.

Francisco. Advance tickets are available at Central Box Office in Carmel or Abinante Music Store in Monterey.

Ohio Sate chamber music group to present concert at MPC

A chamber music group from Ohio State University, The Maniera Trio, will present a concert at Monterey Peninsula College on Friday, Feb. 24. The appearance will be in the MPC Music Hall at 8:30 and no tickets will be required for admission.

The trio consists of Thomas Moore, a young violinist; Rosemary Platt, pianist; and Gordon Epperson, cellist.

Moore has appeared at the Aspen and Brevard festivals, and toured Europe with the Eastman Philharmonica. Miss Platt gave concerts throughout the South before joining the Ohio State faculty. Epperson toured the United States, Canada and the Far East after a successful Town Hall debut. All three are known for their trio work as well as individual performances.

The Maniera Trio replaces the Cantilena Trio whose appearance was originally scheduled for the program.

It's melodrama— 'The Professionals'

By DONALD MINOR

At the moment of this writing, your reviewer has been unable to find out whether or not the run of "The Professionals" at the Village Theater will be continuing when this "appreciation" appears. I sat through this film some weeks ago when it enjoyed a profitable run at the Carmel Valley theater, and so the following brief words must constitute a pejorative in retrospect.

As a Western melodrama of deadly sentiment and vital action, writer-director Richard Brooks' accomplishment must be voted a success (as, indeed, its repeat run here indicates it has been voted) and lovers of what the Japanese call "bang-bang-kiss-kiss" films are (Cont. on page 12)

Chamber group of Symphony to play Sunday

The Cultural Events Committee of Hartnell College is sponsoring a concert by the Monterey County Symphony Chamber Orchestra on Sunday, Feb. 26 at 4 p.m. in the Hartnell College Library.

The Chamber Orchestra, under the baton of John Gosling, will perform Edvard Grieg's Holberg Suite, Op. 40 and Franz Joseph Haydn's Symphony No. 101 in D major, commonly known as the "Clock Symphony."

Joining forces with the Chamber Orchestra will be the Hartnell-Community Chorus with soloists Lorraine Barsotti, soprano and Don Whitsitt, baritone under the direction of Dr. Vahe Aslanian in a performance of Gabriel Faure's Requiem.

The concert is free and is aided by a grant from the Recording Industries (Music Performance) Trust Funds, Samuel R. Rosenbaum, trustee, quiem.

1,300 STUDENTS IN TWO COLLEGES

Chancellor Dean McHenry says that if Reagan's threatened 10% cut happens, they'll probably be able to accept only 250 students (instead of 500) for Crown College.

Cowell's architects made full use of cast shadows.

Cowell's cafeteria commands a panorama of Monterey Bay

Two colleges are now completed, and in the business of beginning the education, the feeding, housing and entertaining of about 1,300 undergraduate, and 27 graduate students. These two would be Cowell, by architects Wurster, Bernardi & Emmons, and Adlai Stevenson, by architect Joseph Esherick. The third college, Crown, by architect Ernest Kump, is well under construction, and will be open for business by September of this year, when it will take on about 525 students. A fourth by the firm of Campbell & Wong, and called at the moment, quite appropriately, "College Four," is in the planning stage, and it is scheduled to open in September, 1968. Depending upon who comes forth with contributions and endowments, "College Four" will naturally be called by another name when it opens.

Cowell's specialty is Humanities, Stevenson's is Social Sciences, Crown's will be Biological Sciences and Mathematics, and College Four will be called the "International College," specializing in languages and their literature for about 500 students.

BIG LIBRARY

In addition to the colleges completed, under construction and in planning, Santa Cruz's central library has been built, and is in use with a stock of 150,000 volumes now, and a projected capacity of 400,000 volumes at maturity. The library's architect was John Warnecke, and the building won a recent award in competition with other buildings all over the country which have received part or all of their funds from the federal government. The Santa Cruz library cost $3,000,000, and the federal government's share was $1,000,000.

The headquarters of the James Lick Observatory and its library are now on campus.

The field house, which was first used as a cafeteria, assembly hall and what-not, has now been re-instated in its original purpose, and serves as focal point for an extensive program of intramural sports (which includes the younger faculty) and physical education classes.

The star-like clusters of residence trailers are still there, though not in the same quantity, because more students than expected requested on-campus residence. Santa Cruz's administration indicates that they'll probably be around for another year before, hopefully, returning to the lease agency.

THE IDEA: WORKING?

All that, throwing in miscellaneous paved pathways and bridges, is the main physical growth visible at Santa Cruz. Of equal interest to us, and to local students and their parents, though, are the workings of the Santa Cruz style in education. This is not as easy to measure as is a new building, especially during the space of only five or six hours, but a couple of things were discovered.

The special conditions that cause student loneliness and irritation on the Berkeley campus are just not present at Santa Cruz. A sophomore at Berkeley, stimulated by something a Professor might have said in lecture, would have to be unusually persistent and ingenious to secure a face-to-face discussion with the Professor who, unknowingly, stimulated him. And, in so trying, he could easily incur a rebuff. (In years past, Berkeley students variously had Big Game Week, the men's rooting section, Sather Gate, or the steps at Spruce Hall, off resentments. It should not be that insignificant details — like a table — should trigger a blow-by-blow proportions.)

TOUGH TO ENTER

It's still not easy to get into the facilities are still so limited. The Registrar Howard Shontz: "The college has honors courses, and become involved in many types of organizations, like the Field Service, VISTA, domestic groups, Scouts, YM, YW, etc. Academically-qualified high school graduates who want Santa Cruz should probably expect a disappointment."

Come to think about it, if the administration can maintain its idea of 25 small communities (no Greek letter groups, no "publish-or-perish"), it's even better when today's kindergartners are accepted for admission.

urged to take in the action and scenery of this one.

A prominent portion of the scenery consists of Claudia Cardinale who plays the part of an American millionaire's Mexican wife who is being held for ransom by a bandit chief-tan, played with great relish by Jack Palance. I was unable, however, to equate Miss Cardinale's scenery with the grandly photographed topography, since it was obviously regarded by

Mr. Brooks as what Harry Cohn told Kim Novak she was, i.e. "just a piece of meat."

The performances by the males of the film, on the other hand are, every one of them, well respected and deservedly so. Lee Marvin, Robert Ryan and Burt Lancaster turn in as ruggedly professional acting jobs as the characters they play turn in, as mercenaries hired to find the bandit stronghold and de-kidnap their employer's missing cupcake.

Among others in attendance at the christening were Terry's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Earl McCamman of Carmel, her paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William F. Hall Sr. of Carmel Valley, her great-grandmother, Mrs. John McCamman, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lee, great-grandparents from San Jose, and Mr. and Mrs. George Palmer, Peggy, Dena and Rickey. Also present was her uncle, Jerry Lee, who is making his home in San Jose following his recent discharge from the Army where he served in Vietnam in the 25th Cavalry Division with McKenzie's Raiders.

Each guest returned to the senior Hall home on Paso Hondo for cake, punch and coffee following the service. The lovely cake baked and decorated in yellow and white by Ruth Meyers was designed like an open Bible with the baby's name. Flanking the cake were lavender tapers.

Boy stuck in tree; firemen bring aid

A "service call" was made by members of the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Dept. when a boy was reported stuck in a tree on Terrace Way. Firemen arrived with a ladder and assisted 13-year-old Eugene Clingman to safety.

The Rhyming Philosopher

I like words with sibilation
And a sensitive sensation,
Such as spoken words like "doughnuts" and "devotion."
When one speaks of "gorgonzola"
I see Venice by gondola,
Which makes poetry the art of words in motion.

One can ruminate and dwell on Singing words like "watermelon,"
And the sound of "sausage rolls" is smooth and sonic.
Though it's trite and not explicit,
I think "barbecue's" exquisite,
And with "Zinfandel" and "salsa" it's symphonic.

Give me words like "Soup Zucchini"
With some "sauerkraut" and "wienie,"
They make sounds like rippling waters in a creek bed.
Then there's "steak" and "stew" and "salad"
Make a gastronomic ballad,
Running close to "pickled pig's feet," "prunes" and "sweet-bread."

You don't have to be poetic
Or profess to be prophetic
To observe that written words are best when spoken.
And for hungry folks, the winner
Must be "breakfast, lunch and dinner,"
Which is true from Monterey to East Hoboken.

Lighting costs less today than it did in '63, because PG&E rates are lower.

While almost everything else in your cost of living has gone up in the last four years, there have been five reductions in PG&E gas and electric rates.

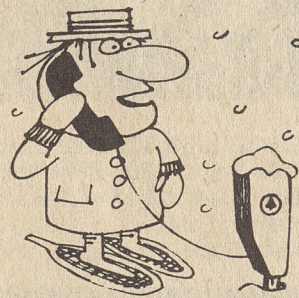

You're probably using more energy now because you've added new, improved lighting and a few new appliances since '63. So your PG&E bill may be higher. But lower rates keep PG&E energy the biggest bargain in your family budget.

COMMUNITY HOSPITAL TRUSTEE J.O. Handley of Carmel (left) accepts the keys for a 1967 Comet from George W. Morris, general manager of Principal Motors Inc. of Monterey which has lent the hospital a new sedan every year since 1964 for use of the administrative staff.

WHAT'S DOING?

The other day I ran across an old list of rules written for telephone repairmen at the Chicago Telephone Company in 1911. I thought you might enjoy a few excerpts from this 56-year-old list: "Treat everybody as you like to be treated, not forgetting your horse; if you want to know the horse's side of it, just take off your coat and hat some zero day, hitch yourself to the same post with your belt, and stand there about two hours. Hereafter don't forget his blanket." Times have changed, but "treat everybody as you like to be treated" is still an idea we Pacific Telephone employees of the Monterey Peninsula believe in—and try to live up to.

Did you know that you can dial direct to an Information Operator almost anywhere in the U.S.A. and Canada outside your own area? That's right—just dial the Area Code of the city you want and 555-1212. Because these calls are part of your phone service—there's never a charge for them. Don't forget—you'll find lots more information about Long Distance in the front pages of your phone book.

I always try to give the person I'm calling time to stop what he's doing and get to the phone. 7 rings just about does it.

Looking for something? Quite a few people lately have told me how much they appreciate the Yellow Pages. You can find just about everything listed there. That's why we say—when you want to buy something or rent something or have something fixed, "you'll find it fast in the Yellow Pages."

Varsity baseball practice begins

The Carmel High baseball team can boast six lettermen among the turnout of 22 for Varsity practice last week, according to Coach Monty Feekes.

Eighteen turned up for junior varsity, which is a far better turnout than last year, he noted.

Several transfer players are expected to improve Carmel's chances this year. They are Doug Matson, a senior outfielder from Los Angeles; Hammy Root, a senior pitcher from West Virginia and Larry Warcken, a junior shortstop from Palo Alto.

Coach Feekes commented that he also expects a good job from pitcher Randy Sinclair, a junior; Steve Meadows, a senior third baseman and catcher Packy Porter, a junior.

Pres. Mike Sullivan

To Valley, Del Mesa Carmel
by way of Anchorage, Alaska

"I was a high school dropout," stated E.J. (Mike) Sullivan, as we sat in one of the beautifully furnished model homes of Del Mesa Carmel, the adult community, of which he is president. However, Mike quickly added... "but I went back!... after getting out of the Navy, which I joined at 17."

Not only did Mike go back to high school, but he continued his education as political science major at University of Idaho and graduated in 1941.

While at the University he was active in campus political affairs and was president of the executive board of the Associated Students. A life-long friendship with Tom McCall, recently elected governor of Oregon, was formed at this time when McCall was sports editor of the Moscow, Idaho, Review, the local newspaper. It was also there that he met his wife, Isobel, who died seven years ago.

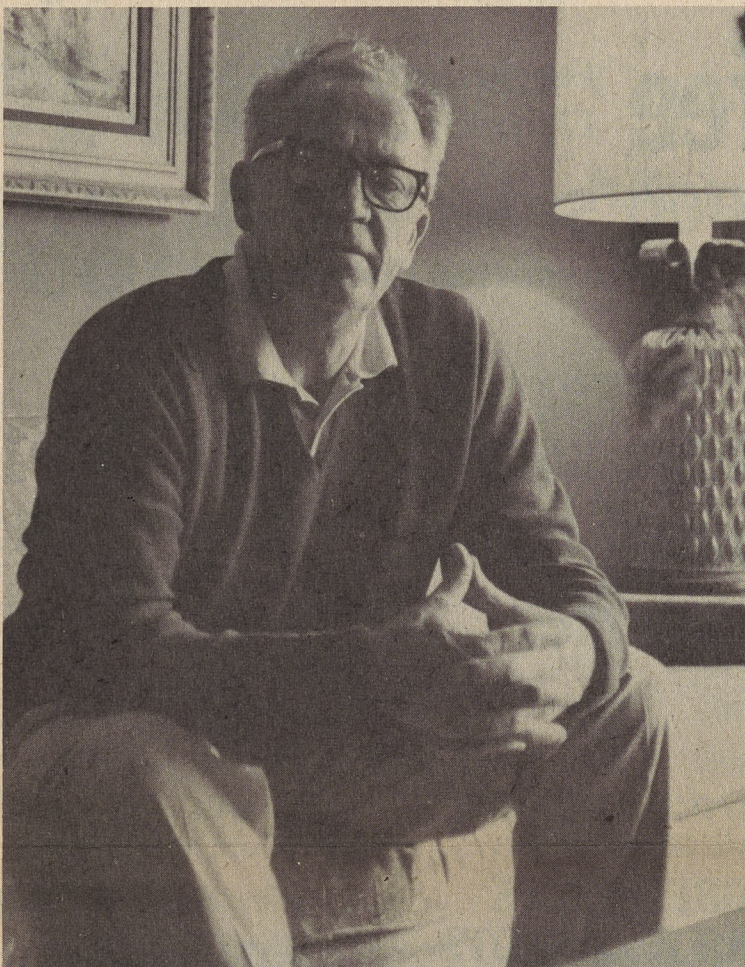

Six years ago Mike, and his four sons moved to Carmel Valley when Alcan Pacific began

MIKE SULLIVAN, president of Carmel Hawaii, developers of Del Mesa Carmel Adult community, announced recently that the models were furnished and ready for viewing. Prices range from $29,700 to $50,200 for the condominium units depending on type and location. Plan B (above) has two bedrooms, two baths and a study.

plans for Hacienda Carmel. Although this project was the butt of tremendous controversy and turmoil, Mike weathered the storm to take his place as a well-liked Valley resident. He and the four boys, who are scattered through four local schools, live in Rancho Canada. Dennis, 20, is an MPC student who is about to go into service. Sixteen-year-old Kevin is at Carmel High. Ten-year-old Michael is at Middle School and Brenden, who is nine, is a student at Carmelo.

Mike went into real estate and became a broker in 1948. This was after he had served his second stint in the Navy and had commanded an LST at Guadalcanal. He joined Alcan Pacific Corp. and went to Anchorage, Alaska with the company, in charge of a large housing complex there. His move to Carmel occurred after his years in Anchorage.

A year ago, he became president of Carmel-Hawaii, after interests were transferred from Alcan to the Hawaiian financed group. This company is the developer of Del Mesa Carmel, with its 150 adult residences atop the mesa across dels.

Strangely enough, sharing top billing with Mike, as vice president of Del Mesa Carmel, is Jim Foster, an old friend whom he went to college with. They went separate ways after graduating, met again at Guadalcanal, and then ended up working together here in Carmel Valley.

Mike is enthusiastic and delighted with the way Del Mesa Carmel has turned out, but they won't let HIM live there. "I'm certainly old enough," he said, "but they don't allow kids, so I just come up here to work."

from Via Petra.

At Del Mesa Carmel (Mike knows the name is grammatically incorrect as far as Spanish goes, but it is so much easier to say than de la Mesa Carmel, he thinks it will stick) three of the furnished model residences are now open for inspection and residences in the condominium are being sold from the map plan. Mike divides his time between the Carmel Hawaii office in the Carmel Rancho Shopping Center and the Del Mesa office, located in one of the luxuriously furnished mo-

A 75-year-old lady writes: "I have arteriosclerosis, with no feeling in my lower extremities. Please suggest a diet which will help this condition."

Answer: There is no diet which will reverse arteriosclerotic lesions at age 75. Since there is no feeling in your lower extremities, it is obvious that there is involvement of the sensory nerves. The site and cause of the impairment should be determined by careful physical examinations and laboratory tests. It may not be due to arteriosclerosis but to some other condition such as pernicious anemia. Peripheral neuritis from diabetes is another possibility; a deficiency of vitamins must also be considered. Do not neglect it.

Cancer continues to plague the human race and is the second leading cause of death in this country. In order of frequency the following types prevail:

First, lung cancer (the most common and still rising); second, cancer of the colon and rectum; third, cancer of the breast; fourth, cancer of the uterus; and fifth, cancer of the stomach.

Leukemia, often referred to as cancer of the white blood cells, is fairly common in the younger generations, even in the very young.

Cancer of the liver as a primary lesion is uncommon among Caucasians. It is quite common, however, among Chinese and other Orientals. It may well be related to a deficiency of certain nutrients (especially proteins) over a long period. Secondary malignancies of the liver are not at all uncommon and are derived from other organs, such as the large bowel, rectum, stomach and pancreas.

Another large group of malignancies which will take about 16,000 lives in 1967 are the lymphomas. These also occur in the younger group and usually manifest themselves by enlargement of the lymph nodes of the neck, under the arm, in the groins, and elsewhere; the spleen also is often enlarged and may produce a feeling of pressure in the upper left portion of the abdomen.

Cancer of the kidney and bladder will take about 14,000 lives in 1967. This is about twice as common in males as in females, and the cause is not known. Some evidence suggests that bladder cancers may be related to smoking, but this is by no means so well established as the relationship of smoking to lung cancer.

Any chronic skin lesions, such as ulcerations or thickenings so common in the older group, should be examined by your doctor. This may spread rapidly and is very malignant. The celebrated Doctor Tom Dooley succumbed to this type of lesion in his thirties. Other types are quite readily brought under control.

CV Women meet at Rippling River

The Carmel Valley Women's Club will hold its March meeting at Rippling River Resort on the first day of the month. The luncheon meeting will begin at noon with Mrs. Mark Fields in charge.

The group was originally scheduled to meet at a Monterey restaurant, but plans were changed to Rippling River so that members could become acquainted with the Valley resort.

Mrs. Everett Bibb of Carmel will be the guest speaker, reviewing a current best-seller. Mrs. Bibb is a retired librarian from the Sacramento school system and was librarian at Ft. Ord during the time her husband was stationed there. Since her husband retired as Lt. Colonel, Mrs. Bibb has joined him in extensive traveling. The Bibbs have two children, one who is married, and the other a member of the Peace Corps in Afghanistan.

The meeting is open to all members and guests and baby sitting will be available at the Community Chapel on Village Drive.
